

Write a Stored Procedure that inserts all the data using list of columns from Table A to Table B and truncates the data in Table A post insertion to Table B.

Constraint: The column list will be passed in a single parameter and the column values would be comma separated